Ralph Amitrano
Supervisor of Athletics, PE & Health

February 2006

To whom it may concern,

For the past 6 years Wayne Mazzoni has been conducting seminars at Mineola that have helped to familiarize athletes ,parents and staff with the complicated task of seeking out athletic endeavors at the college level. As the author of "The Athletic Recruiting and Scholarship Guide" Wayne is fully versed on every aspect of college selection financial aid, NCAA regulations, recruiting and preparedness.

The feedback that we have received from parents has always been extremely positive and has helped them to realize the scope in which their children compete for limited scholarship opportunities. He also places much of the emphasis of the process on the student and parent in terms of matching student strengths with a College or Universities offerings then building a personal profile for sake of initial introduction to the college coach. He truly builds confidence in the High School athletic program by outlining the facts surrounding movement to the next level of athletics.

Having Wayne speak to your athletic community can only help to create a more realistic and well informed student body, staff and public. In addition to his statesmanship he also brings great experience with him. As a former high school and college athlete and current Division I baseball coach at Holy Cross, Wayne has been the player, the recruit, the coach and the recruiter.

Wayne Mazzoni's seminar is a necessary facet of any high school athletic program looking to serve the best interests of their student athletes.

Sincerely,

Ralph Amitrano
District Director of Athletics, PE & Health
